TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR SPORTING, FUNDRAISING AND CORPORATE PLATES

- The number plates remain the property of Director General.
- The number plates shall not be attached to a taxi, omnibus or any other vehicle which requires specific identifying number plates allocated by Department of Transport.
- If the holder of the right to display and trade certificate does not nominate a Western Australian vehicle on which to display the plates, the plates must be stored by Department of Transport.
- Customers requesting a remake will receive a plate produced in the current design of the plate series. Previous designs will not be available.

The Right to Display
The successful applicant will obtain the Right to Display and Trade the number plates and will receive a certificate to that effect.

The Right to Trade
The person or corporation who is entitled to the Right to Display and Trade may offer that right for sale. A sale can take place at any price to any individual or corporation by transferring the rights.

Transfer of Rights
A person or corporation who is entitled to the Right to Display and Trade may transfer the entitlement. With each transfer the Department of Transport must be notified of the transaction by completing a Plate Transfer form.

The seller of the Right to Display and Trade must within 14 days of the plate transfer, present to Department of Transport:

- The duplicate Plate Transfer form;
- The plates if not already held by Department of Transport; and
- The Right to Display and Trade certificate.

The purchaser must then present to Department of Transport:
- the original of the Plate Transfer form.
- the existing number plates on the vehicle on which the Special plates are to be displayed; and
- Pay the appropriate fee.

Transport will issue to the purchaser of the Right to Display and Trade the plates a certificate to that effect.

Storage of Plates
Plates not attached to a Western Australian licensed vehicle will be stored by Department of Transport and a storage fee for each year or part thereof will be charged to the owner of the Right to Display the plates.
